Confirmation of Minutes of Previous ORM : 1 April, 2012

Moved: Trevor Parry    Seconded: Steven Pate

Business Arising from Previous Minutes:    None

Correspondence: Correspondence lists were tabled and taken as read.

Promotion and Marketing Report: Steven Pate

The past year has seen several new events and initiatives to add to those we have used in the past to communicate and promote our industry and our region. Let me step through the various communication and marketing mediums our region employs -

Traffic to the VER website is steadily growing - with significant increases in the first half of the year - presumably around certain events such as the Spectacular and Colourama.

Advertisements -

- 75 alpaca for sale ads - steadily growing
- 32 stud sire ads - also steadily growing

Other ads are static - we probably need to keep reminding our members of the options available.

A huge effort by the Colourama Convening team of this inaugural event resulted in a very successful first show. 260 animals and 95 fleeces was a great result and the feedback from those who attended has been very positive.

We expect to increase on these numbers in the second year, now there is a reputation to build on, but the venue has a capacity limit so it will likely be a 300 animal limit. It may well be “get in early or miss out”.

As part of the promotion for Colourama an eNewsletter for the event was created. 5 of these were sent out to VER members plus past participants at Colourbration, both leading up to and after our new event.

A generic VER eNewsletter was also started and 2 editions sent out to members - one of these was to feature the VER Spectacular.

- Colourama now has 217 friends

A facebook page was also created for VER generically, initially to promote the Spectacular, but it can be used for a variety of purposes, including as an on-line forum.

- VER now has 63 friends

Sign on and use it as a way of communicating with other VER members. You can post pictures, add comments and join in chats with other members.

National Alpaca Week - During the period 11-20 May. 11 VER members participated this year.

Royal Melbourne Show

This year a display in the main animal pavilion has been organised. Each Victorian region has been allocated 2 x 2mx2m pens for animals and displays. VER will be setting up a static display of information, plus animal displays. We still need volunteers to man these - with or without animals. This is a great opportunity to promote our industry as well as your own stud to other rural businesses as well as the general public.

Volunteers for the coming year

All activities in our region require volunteers to organise and run them. The committee will be actively seeking volunteers from our membership to participate in this way. In some cases it may be to totally organise an event or activity. In others it will be to be part of the team. The more we can spread the load, the more we will be able to achieve.

Moved: Trevor Parry                      Seconded: Joanne Daniels      Carried

Treasurer's Report:                      Had been tabled at the preceding ARM

David Daddo mentioned that Red Hill Show has been moved back to Easter Sat. 30th March 2013 which should be an advantage to all.

VER Spectacular Report: David Daddo

Saturday evening - the 21st April and the Banquet Room at the Cardinia Cultural Centre was a picture. Members and friends were gathering for our Presentation Night - the Region's 17th Annual Dinner and Fleece Competition.

The tinkling sounds of the grand piano filtered throughout the room. The silverware, that was the brace of trophies awaiting presentation, gleamed in the soft lights. Fleeces tumbled in colourful array, The superb collection of handcrafts bespoke of the skills of their creators. Photography exhibits told all that the camera lens had seen.

Guests mingled over pre-dinner canapes and drinks before moving to the centre-piece, balloon festooned, tables for the buffet style main course, served from the Centre's carvery.

Conversation levels lifted.

Trivia questions filled the air.

The acknowledgements of the award winners was in the applause heralding the fleece competition announcements; the presentations for Alpaca of the Year and the 10 Year Committee Service Award.

The buzz of excitement as bidding at the silent auction moved to its climax. The warmth of friends; the networking; the shared discussions - this was indeed a very spectacular, V.E.R SPECTACULAR.

To all who were there - thank you for making the night so special, so enjoyable and so successful.

For the statistically minded, 83 guests enjoyed a complimentary drink on arrival and dined on carvery slices of roast pork, roast lamb and chicken served with a spinach and ricotta cannelloni and seasonal roasted vegetables.

A brandy snap basket filled with a combination of fresh fruit with seasonal coulis and a scoop of sorbet brought guests back to the tables later in the evening.

In excess of 80 fleeces were presented to Judge Pam Baxter.

12 sponsors generously donated products in support of the Silent Auction, which accumulated $3200 of the Total Income of $9600 generated by this year's V.E.R. Spectacular.

The entire event, incorporating the Dinner; the Fleece Competition; the Alpaca of the Year awards and the 10 year Committee Service Awards was brought to members at a net cost to the Region (as noted through today's Treasury Report figures) of $2200. A most satisfactory outcome.

And now, onwards to next year. Subject to Committee approval, planning will very soon get under way. A task force is yet to be finalised and decisions made as to how, when and where our 18th Annual Dinner and Fleece Competition will be staged.

It is certain that an exciting evening will unfold. Keep your diary dates for next April/ May relatively clear, pending an early advice. We look to your ongoing support and participation, in what has become a permanent annual fixture in our Region's calendar - our main event, our V.E.R SPECTACULAR 2013.

Heather Gardner asked if there will be a stud auction next year? David replied that it was a deliberate decision made for last year, but that may change for next year.

General Business:

Colleen Long thanked the Region for organising members to help her to move while she was ill and to thank everyone who was able to help out, and those that were unable to do so but sent their best wishes.

Steve Pate urged members to take up the opportunity of attending the 2 pens being provided at the Royal Melbourne Show, either with animals for display or by manning the stall to promote the Alpaca industry.

Industry Image : Lindy Smith recounted a very negative phone call from a regional publication looking for advertising, suggesting the industry is struggling- we need to keep presenting the positive aspects of our industry. Trevor Parry reported a very positive call from the ABC in Sale about a feature on Alpaca meat. Steven Pate said new portfolios will be created to better promote the region and the industry eg: media liaison officer, school liaison officer and others.

Rudi Balde : Lezley Golding received an email to say that he is recovering from surgery and is having Chemo. Support would be welcome.

Members' Involvement : Wendy Lyons stressed the need for wider membership to be involved by spreading VER Events across the whole region. Lindy Smith was concerned that the region also address the needs of members who don't "show". David Daddo pointed out that membership is falling nationally as well as in the Eastern Region, and we need to focus on providing value for membership.

National Alpaca Week : Concerns were again expressed about the timing of NAW and the consequent weather issues. A change of date should again be raised with the AAA Council.

ORM CLOSE: 12.30 PM
